COMPETITIONS.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank all of you who took part in our last issue's competitions. We had an overwhelming reply and are delighted that so many of our readers took the time to enter the free competitions. However there had to be only one winner for each competition and, though it was very difficult, our judges eventually chose a winner for each part. The spot the differences competition wa -s won by Mr D. Anderson who found all of the mistakes. Mr S. Carsen won the word square competition although as many people found all the words, an entry had to be picked at random. Unfortunately we only had one entry for both the poster and cover designing competitions and these, together with a word grid competition were won by Mr B. Paxton. Would these three winners please claim their prizes as soon as possible.

The prizes consist of : a match day poster, gift from the gods, pud pud, roland rat and a kong/hunchback poster.

INSIDE THIS MONTH.....

Inside this month we have an exclusive 'Everyone's a wally' map and instructions on how to finish the game. (pg 4). We are also featuring puzzles (pg 7) and hardware and software reviews (pg 2). The Top Ten chart is on pg 3 and this months cartoons are on pg 6. The article on computer deals is on pg 8. We hope you enjoy reading this magazine.

There are many types of music synthesiser on the market so we have decided to look at just a few of them. Hybrid Technology has made the Music 500. This package costs about £199 and gives your BBC the ability to generate quite powerful sound. This package is also compatible with other musical hardware on the market. Cheetah have recently produced a drum synthesiser for the Spectrum. This costs £29.95 and is a good quality device. However these music synthesisers are expensive. If you wanted to produce really good music you would need a fully compatible synthesiser and a fully compatible keyboard. This would put the price to £300 as a minimum. Even if you purchased a 'cheap' add on device for your micro you will probably find that you have to purchase an even dearer amplifying unit as well. Another reason that makes music a quite expensive hobby for your micro is that after buying all your hardware, leads, tapes and other units will soon increase an already high price.

Suppliers include Siel (Commodore), Passeport (Apple), cheetah (Spectrum and DK Tronics (spectrum)).

The Saga Elite keyboard is built to resemble a IBM PC computer it is easily installed by just opening up your Spectrum or Spectrum Plus, mounting the new keyboard and connecting the two ribbon cables and screwing the case together. The keyboard contains many extra function keys and looks incredibly smart. The keyboard does not however have any gimmick such as sound amplifiers or interfaces but for £79.95 this package is very good value.

REVIEWS.....

Name: Barry McGuigan World Championship Boxing.

Price: £9.99

Supplier: Activision, 15 Harley house, Marlebone Road, London, NW1 5HE.

Review: This is yet another game that is to do with boxing. In this game however you can choose who you wish to fight in comparison to other games where you have no choice. The game is quite easy to play but there are many different movements to master. This is probably the best boxing game around but it's also the dearest so for the extra £3 you expect to get a superior program.

Name: On the run.

Price: £7.95

Supplier: Design Design, 125 Smedly Road, Cheetham Hill, Manchester.

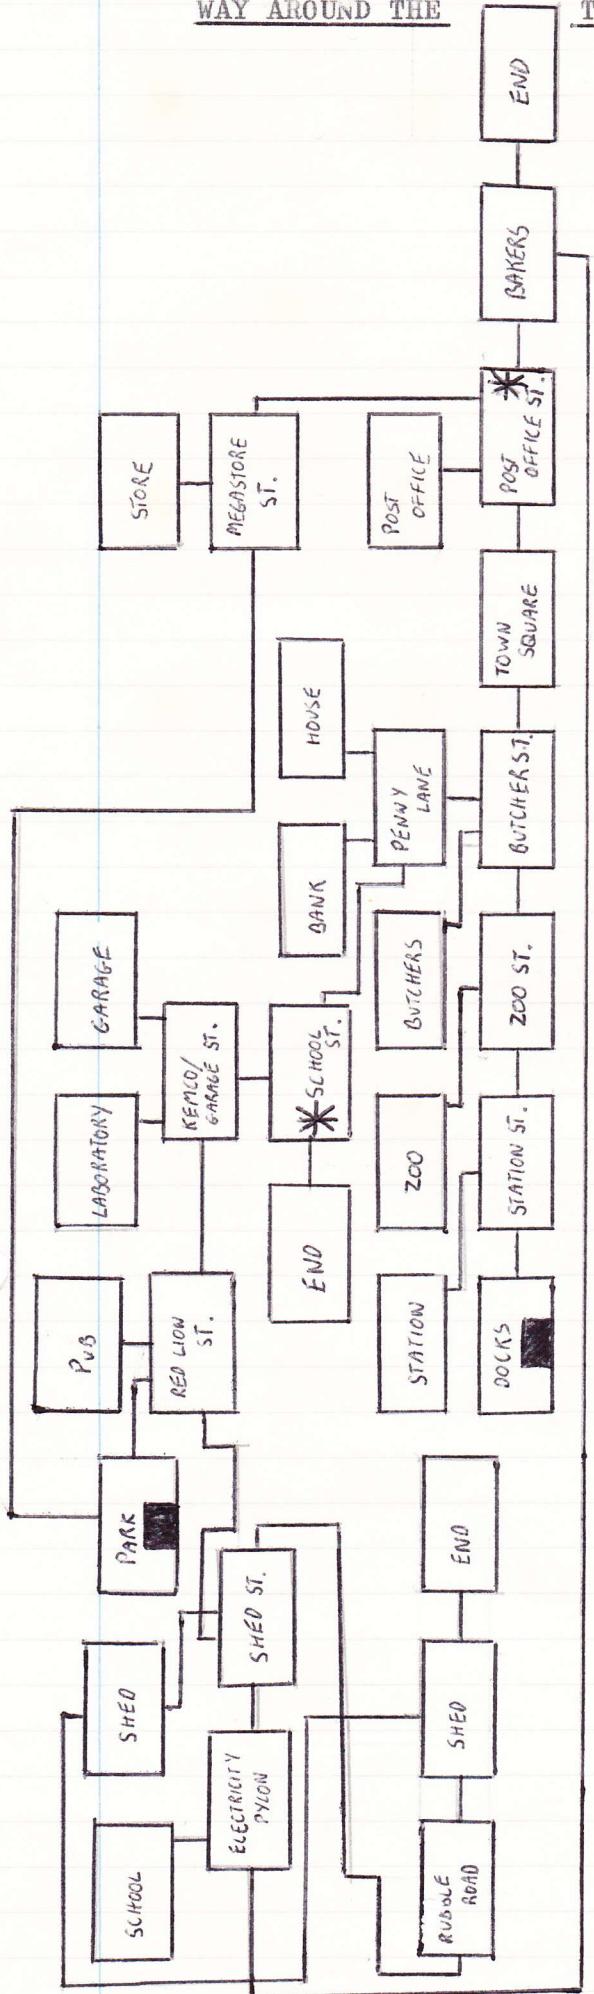

Review: This is an arcade adventure which consists of you, a jetpac like man, must rescue six flasks of dangerous chemicals from a maze area filled with nerve gas and other nasties. The game resembles Sabre Wulf and other games like that. This game is all very competently done but for those of you who already have Sabre Wulf it is a bit too expensive for just another variation of this game.

RATINGS:

- 10 out of 10: Brilliant a real ASM reader who gets full value for money by reading the magazine 3 times.
- 9 out of 10: just missed being perfect.Well that shows you should read your ASM's extra carefully.
- 5-8 out of 10 : not too bad but you really must pay more attention to what you are reading.
- 3-4 out of 10 : this is not good enough you had better start buying back up issues to refresh your memory.Or maybe you don't bother reading the magazines?Which ever it is you really must try harder.
- 1-2 out of 10 : Come on! Surely you can do better than that.Why not hunt out all those old magazines and refresh your memory.
- 0 out of 10 : So you're the one whose been using ASM's as firelighters eh?Well since you got such a terrible score I think you should buy some old issues and start swotting up your facts.

COMPUTER DEALS.....

You may have noticed that there are quite a few shops selling cheap Spectrum Plusses.Well we've scouted around and come up with the following deals,in Dixons there are two main offers these consist of 1) a Spectrum Plus,Tape recorder,mini tv ,and six games for £199 and 2) a Plus,a tape recorder,a joystick & interface and six games all for £139.Other deals are available at shops such as Currys and John Menzies.QL's have also dropped in price and now most of the shelves are being taken up by Amstrads new CPC6128 which is replacing their earlier CPC664. Amstrad were offering a CPC664,disk drive,moniter and Logo for £320.But this new computer being introduced has angered many owners of the old machine as they feel that after a few months there machines are already out of date.

You may also be a reader of the JPL magazine as well as an ASM reader. If so you will probably found statements about ASM in the last issue of this inferior production. You may also have noticed this:

CONDITIONS OF SALE This publication must not without the prior permission of the publishers be lent, resold, hired out, disposed of in a mutilated condition, be made into paper planes, used to put mugs of coffee on left alone at night without a few biscuits, used to light fires or transmuted into gold or any other base metal. COPYRIGHT JEAN PIERRE LUNI PUBLICATIONS 1985 ©

We agree that the JPL magazine is made of high-quality paper but the conditions of sale say nothing about another useful use which I found. By the addition of a small hole at the top right-hand corner of the magazine it can be quite easily hung from a nail in the bathroom door and then you can make full use of the excellent paper quality. We hope you find the same.
